City Council discusses ballfield improvements, selling city property

By Gari Voss

The Allegan City Council addressed a variety of issues during their Monday, March 10, 2025, meeting. The Village Market and Juan Linn Restaurant moved officially to the C-2 General Commercial District Zone. The adjustments to Ordinance 528 would have a second reading and a Public Meeting at the March 24, 2025, meeting. And much time was spent on the possible improvements to the Sports Complex and the sale of city parcels that have no governmental purpose.

Amending Ordinance 528

The amending of Ordinance 528, Chapter 7, Article II Rental Inspection Program of the code of ordinances was quickly reviewed. The scheduling of a second reading and public hearing for Ordinance 528 was set for March 24, 2025. Several aspects of Ordinance 528 required clarification in regard to wording identifying who would pay the inspection fees. City Manager Joel Dye and the city staff worked with PCI, the inspection group, and with the City Attorney to review the current ordinance. The decision was made to replace the current ordinance with a new one.

Approving Ordinance 527

The second reading of Ordinance 527 was held with a public hearing scheduled. The Council adopted the ordinance for the rezoning of Village Market at 100 Monroe Street, and Juan Ling Restaurant at 565 Water Street.

The approval was made to align these parcels with the city's Master Plan. The properties have truly been operating as businesses in a General Business District. With this official change, the businesses have some different guidelines. One is that the property owners will have the ability to change signage that C-1 zoning did not allow.

Finance Department

The request to approve accounts payable in the amount of $938,556.26 and payroll in the amount of $127,752.30 for a total disbursement of $1,066,308.56 passed.

Review of the FY2026 Fee Schedule and Approved Vendor List.

Finance Director Tracy Stull requested that the council review the department vendors and fees. The pre-approved vendor list assists the departments when making purchases that are within their budgets. There was no approval during this meeting because these will be approved during the budgeting process in May. City Manager Dye requested that Council Members review the list and bring any questions to the city staff. Some fees are attached to the ordinances and will require more attention if a change is necessary. The request is that council members come in and share any questions if there seems to be a problem.

Public Works

The discussion regarding potential improvements to the youth baseball and softball fields at the Sports Complex addressed the current uses of the fields and changes requested by the youth baseball group. To inform the new Council members, City Manager Dye reviewed that the Sports Complex is not within the city limits but was deeded to the city and is the city's responsibility.

The Sports Complex offers fields for youth baseball plus adult and youth softball along with soccer fields that are used by youth in the greater Allegan area and townships. Though the fields do not seem to be within the city limits, they are owned and maintained by the city.

The ball fields are different sizes for younger to older players. The current thought is to work with Allegan Youth Baseball and create a girls' softball field. In addition, Allegan Youth Baseball received a quote to change all fields to dirt infields. The original quote of $20,000 for all four fields but did not cut down the 8 inches that would ensure that grass did not grow back. If all four fields were transitioned into dirt infields, that would be $80,000 that the city had not budgeted and was not willing to pay.

The feeling was expressed that those who use the complex should find ways to change the fields. A question to answer: What would the Council like the Sports Complex to be?

The City does not have a Recreation Authority that could create a millage to run sports activities. Though the Council had no real nays to the idea of improving the Complex, there was consensus to finding alternative funding. It would be important to get the surrounding townships involved. Though there are some fees collected from ASO soccer and Allegan Youth Baseball, they would not cover changing the infields of all four ball fields. The discussion will continue.

City Manager & City Clerk

Contract with Carter Consulting. City Manager Dye requested that the Council authorize the City Manager to enter into a contract with Carter Consulting regarding future reporting on the MEDC Grant for 109 Locust Street.

The MEDC Grants are to physically improve buildings in the downtown area and have specific requirements.109 Locust Street (Something Sweet) was awarded a MEDC grant to create 2 upstairs apartments with one being for low income residents. The city manager would like to continue partnering with Carter Consulting to complete the annual inspection of the leases, income verification of tenants, and report to MEDC.

Discussion regarding selling city-owned property. The City of Allegan owns several properties that are not used for governmental purposes. In the past, these properties were sold at a variety of prices depending upon the viable use of the parcel. Most recently a request was made to purchase a 2-acre parcel for $1. In another instance, the new owner of the old bowling alley is requesting some special adjustments to adjoining city-owned property. City Manager Dye reminded the Council that sometimes, the city has needed to be creative when addressing the purchase of city property, but the decisions were always within the requirements of city ordinances.

The bowling alley request would require vacating a city owned parcel so it can be split between the new owner and city. In the past, the 2-acre parcel had been sold for $1, but when it was found that the soil was contaminated and the cost for cleanup was fiscally prohibitive, the new owner turned it back to the city.

The discussion wrestled with how best to determine the price of a parcel of city property. Dye shared that businesses come to City Hall to determine how to improve or grow. One thought is that the city should encourage businesses to grow and bring more business and/or jobs to the community.

Discussion delved into how much the 2-acre property is worth. Can it be helpful to the city by bringing jobs?

After a lengthy discussion, Dye stated that there are different ways to determine value of a parcel - professional appraiser or assessor. The 2-acre parcel was last assessed for $15,900 by just looking at square footage and not taking into consideration the contaminated soil.

In the end a motion was made and approved to have the city staff determine what the property is worth knowing that it is contaminated and would require remediation, how the new owner would improve the area job market, and the amount of tax money that would be realized. All these points would affect the fair market value.

Public Restrooms Update. City Manager Dye reported that after reopening the public restroom from 7am to 11pm and assigning city police to patrol these areas on a regular basis, the last couple months have seen a marked improvement. There have been no problems at City Hall, and only 2 sleepers at the Riverfront restrooms.

Kzoo Folklife Arts Festival. The arts festival – music, visual and performing arts, and crafters will take over Allegan High School on Saturday, March 29, 2025. The organizers were given permission to hang a banner on the fence near the skateboard area at Jaycee Park.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

Several Council members gave kudos to the Cabin Fever Reliever New Orleans Jazz concert at the Griswold and are looking forward to the April 13th concert.

Council member Zeter asked for an update on the work at the Allegan City Dam. Dye shared that Milbocker is waiting for some approvals so they can begin demolition. In response to what would happen to the equipment like the generators, Dye directed the inquiry to Kyle Ellis of Milbocker.

CLOSED SESSION

The Council ended the evening by going into closed session pursuant to MCL 15.268(h) to consider material exempt from discussion or disclosure by state or federal statute.

Gun Lake Casino hotel opens its doors

The Gun Lake Tribe has unveiled its long-awaited hotel addition to the Gun Lake Casino, marking a significant expansion for the property that opened in 2011.

The 16-story hotel boasts 252 luxury rooms and suites, offering panoramic views of the surrounding area. The expansion also includes a domed oasis featuring multiple pools and a spa.

"We are finally here; it's very exciting," said Bob Peters, Gun Lake Tribal chairman. "There's been blood, sweat and tears that went into this project from day one, so for it to come to fruition, my heart's busting at the seams. It's amazing, and I can't wait for everyone to experience this property."

Sal Semola, Gun Lake Casino chief executive officer, emphasized the high-end nature of the new facilities. "Our goal out of the gate was to be at least a four-star, Four Diamond-type of resort. And what that entails is not just the level of finishes but the level of amenities and services and those types of things."

The addition is expected to draw visitors from a wider geographic area, potentially boosting the local economy. Wayland City Manager Erik Wilson expressed optimism about the impact on local businesses. "I think it's going to attract more visitors to the region. Those visitors are going to visit our businesses. They're going to spend their dollars here in the city. So I think that that type of investment for the region is great."

Last year, the Local Revenue Sharing Board received more than $2 million from the casino. With the new hotel, that figure is expected to increase.

"The more that we make here, the more the tribe gives back to the community," Semola added. "So with that added visitation from the hotel and the oasis, a rising tide lifts all boats."

The casino anticipates opening its spa later this month, with the domed pool oasis set to welcome guests in May.

Creating Hope, One Home at a Time:

Heart to Heart's Community-Driven Mission to Transform Lives

By Cindy Sasser

Heart to Heart, a non-profit organization based in Hamilton, has long been dedicated to improving the lives of those in need within the community. The "10 Homes for 10 Families" initiative embodies this mission to address one of the most important issues facing vulnerable families: housing instability.

Heart to Heart is a Resale Store located at 4621 135th Avenue in Hamilton, Michigan. Operating under the auspices of Love In the Name of Christ (Love INC) of Allegan County, it's a cornerstone of community support, offering a wide range of donated goods at affordable prices. By purchasing items from the store, customers directly contribute to the organization's mission of providing stable housing and other forms of support to families in need.

Love In the Name of Christ (Love INC) is a national organization that mobilizes local churches to transform lives and communities in the name of Christ. By connecting volunteers, resources, and services from different Christian congregations, Love INC addresses various needs such as food, housing, job training, and spiritual support. Their mission is to show Christ's love through service, empowering individuals and families toward self-sufficiency and holistic well-being. Love INC Allegan County in their own words is:

"A National Movement of the Body of Christ Helping Their Neighbors - Across 29 States and in Kenya, 100+ Love INC locations partner with over 7,800 Christian Churches to serve hundreds of thousands of people in need"

You can find more information here: https://loveincnwa.org/about-love-inc/

In 2008, Love INC Allegan County launched the Homes of Hope Program to address the issue of housing instability. In the past 15 years, the program has provided transitional housing for 13 families as they navigated life-changing events such as divorce, domestic violence, job loss, evictions, and addiction recovery.

The goal is to provide 10 mobile homes over 5 years to families who complete the transitional housing portion of their Homes of Hope Program. They plan to purchase, place, refurbish, and move the families into these homes, making it possible for them to eventually take ownership of the homes.

Like any ambitious project, "10 Homes for 10 Families" faces its share of challenges. Securing sufficient funding, navigating regulatory requirements, and ensuring the homes meet quality standards are all significant hurdles.

Volunteers, local businesses, and individual donors have all played an essential role in bringing this project to life. From donating materials and funds to offering their time and labor, the community has come together in an extraordinary display of collective responsibility and support.

They added that getting people into their own homes and off government assistance isn't easy; it involves a lot of details and requirements. But for the ten families selected for this program, this means more than just a roof over their heads; it signifies a fresh start. Stable housing allows families to focus on other critical aspects of their lives, such as employment, education, and health, without the constant worry of where they will live next.

Choosing the ten families for this initiative is a meticulous and compassionate process. They need to ensure that the families selected would benefit the most from this opportunity. Criteria included factors such as current housing situation, family size, income level, and specific needs that stable housing could address. The selection process also involves consultations with social workers, community leaders, and other stakeholders to ensure fair and impactful choices.

Heart to Heart Resale Store exemplifies the profound impact that community-driven efforts can have on individual lives. By transforming donated goods into tangible support, Heart to Heart is not only addressing immediate needs but also laying the groundwork for long-term success and stability.

"All proceeds from the Heart to Heart Resale Store help support the ministry of Love INC, a network of 29 churches in Allegan County who partner together to serve our community; 9 of those 29 churches host various types of pantries that fill a gap in common community needs."

The store operates on a schedule designed to accommodate a variety of shoppers:

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 9:30am-5pm

First Saturday of each month, 9:30am-2pm

Friday and Monday, Closed

Donations can be dropped off at Heart to Heart Resale Store during store hours only. Also visit: https://loveincnwa.org/heart-to-heart-store-2/ and click on "Frequently Requested Pantry Items" to see the list and locations if you'd like to donate. You can also visit their Amazon Wish List showing their most frequently requested pantry items.

The following are ways your donations are used: They are sold in the store to provide revenue for the Love INC ministry, recycled, repurposed, shared across their Love INC locations in Allegan County, or shared with a variety of other ministries.

While they accept a wide array of items, they have specific guidelines to ensure the safety and usability of donations; items that cannot be accepted include cribs, car and booster seats, unframed mirrors, exercise equipment, computers and printers, televisions, and large desks or entertainment centers.

The Heart to Heart Resale Store in Hamilton is a shining example of hope and kindness, turning community support into real help for those in need. By turning donations into valuable resources, the store helps fund Love INC Allegan County, treating those in need with care, dignity, and respect. The "10 Homes for 10 Families" initiative showcases the spirit of community care, giving selected families a life-changing chance for stable housing. These efforts highlight a strong dedication to helping vulnerable families achieve long-term success and stability making a real difference in many lives.

Photography on display at Old Jail Museum

By Gari Voss

The display area at the Old Jail Museum in Allegan is morphing into a delightful collage of photography history. Thanks to the ongoing efforts of Allegan County Historical Society President Mark Lovett, the area contains cameras and equipment dating back to the 1800s.

When entering the area, the visual effect can be overwhelming until Lovett assists with beginning at the beginning. Housed in a curio cabinet at the end of the room are the oldest cameras. It includes an old verichrome roll-film cameras, Lovett believed to be from the turn of the century. One camera stood out because it was a glass-plate camera that had the emulsion on the glass rather than a typical film. The glass plate was slid into a wooden frame that could be slid into the camera. Once a picture was taken, the plate could be flipped over and exposed on the other side. Most of the cameras in the curio cabinet were point and shoot, but a couple had adjustable apertures.

Mark Lovett, current president of the Allegan County Historical Society and retired photographer, is creating a photography display at the Old Jail Museum. The curio cabinet holds many of the oldest cameras on display while the shadowbox-like cubbies hold a variety of cameras and equipment that were used across the years. The display will be available through most of 2025, but Lovett admits that he is continuing to sort pieces that will be added, and there may be some pieces removed over time. The Old Jail Museum is open on Saturdays from 10am to 4pm. Photo: G. Voss

As Lovett examined the display, he shared that many of the cameras had been donated to the museum over time. Lovett admitted that he was not a camera collector, but did have one that was given to him by Jerry Richlich and a gentleman from the Jennison area offered many others.

That moved the investigation to the right where a shadowbox-like display houses all sizes and shapes of flash bulb cameras that may be extremely familiar to those who took pictures in the 50s and 60s. Most of the collection are point and shoot that can have a flash attached. Some contained blue bulbs and other clear. The difference? Blue indicated color film exposure while clear was for black and white.

"Most people don't realize that color film is balanced for daylight," explained Lovett. "Without the blue bulb, color film would come out orange. I just discovered a bottle of Blu-Kot. You can use it to paint a clear bulb, and it will be blue and useable for color film."

Lovett then pulled a small Imperial camera from the nook, "This was my first camera. I got it when I was 8 or 10 years old in the late 50s. It's just a point and shoot. The number of times you click it would be the number of exposures."

On the table below the nooks is a complete camera set. "This is the camera that I used near the end of my career the equipment includes a flash and flash meter. Next to it [housed neatly in a glass box] is the first 35mm Canon SLR camera that I used where you actually look through the lens to take the picture. It has a customed proprietary flash unit so when you focus the camera, the unit can tell the flash how far away the subject is, and it will adjust the aperture for the flash."

Included in the display are examples of the photography across the years. Lovette even included pictures like the one of his mother and her sibling from the 30s, and the picture of an electric pole that he took in the 1980s.

"It was originally a color negative. I had to do a lot of lab work to take it from a color negative to a high contrast black and white then sandwich it against another piece of film to make a negative then print off that film. I built up the contrast. Then I made the picture and decided I wanted to make it bigger and more interesting, so I matted it and framed it then used a ruling pen to draw the lines off the picture onto the matte. The process was more darkroom and artwork so I displayed it with the darkroom equipment."

That brought us to the end of the shadow boxes. "This is the darkroom corner, so we have a developer from about the 50s. There are developing trays for the paper, a developing spool that you would wind the 35 mm film on then place it in the tank and agitate it for so long. Pour out the developer then begin the stop bath. You would dump out and wash away the undeveloped silver. That was done in the dark."

How did Lovett get into photography? Both his grandfather and dad were photographers to a degree. His dad was a pilot in WWII and learned many of the techniques during the war.

Moving across the room, the wall has a variety of shelves. On one shelf, Lovett even has on display a couple of his dad's cameras. One a Kodak Medalist (American) and the other a Zeiss Ikon 35mm (German).

"The camera that people may be most familiar with is up in the corner. That is the camera that when you see an old movie and the press is on the scene, they would have that camera in their hands. Typically, it was a 4 X 5 press camera called a Graphlex. It had a very large flash that used both blue and clear bulbs. The fun thing about that camera is that the grip for the flash, a silver cylinder, is what they used in the original Star Wars when they made the light saber. It was just a detachable silver handle and the rest was all lights and magic."

On a small tripod on top of the display case is an Argus that was made in Ann Arbor. At the opposite end in the display case is a collection of 35mm Argus. Included is a Michigan History magazine from the Historical Society of Michigan that features an article about the Argus. Many of the Argus cameras came out in the 1940s and were used during WWII.

Included in the display case are range finder cameras. When looking through the view finder, there are two images. When the images lay perfectly on top of each other, the subject is in focus.

Another unique grouping in the case is a Vivitar 283 had thyristor circuitry. This meant that it actually read how much light was bouncing off the subject and back to the camera then it can automatically set the light output. This determined how long the light would burn. These were cutting edge in probably the late 70s or early 1980s. "A lot of this was mine that I used during my career," shared Lovett. "It had all kinds of accessories – filters, concentrators or diffusers – that were hooked up to the camera by a cord or unplug the dial to just use the flash on the camera."

Nestled on the top shelf of the case are all types of film canisters and even a small movie camera that took one minute of film. Lovett referred to it as something like a spy camera. In the case and on small shelves are other pocket cameras including a toy that takes 35mm pictures.

One camera that many families had was the Brownie Hawkeye. The display case includes the camera in its original box with the detachable flash, lightbulbs and even the batteries. "You could go to the store and get everything except the film in one box," Lovett quipped. "The power source basically sends a spark up to the flashbulb. The flashbulb is typically filled with very fine magnesium or aluminum wire. When the spark goes up, the wire catches on fire and that causes the light output. The bulb burns hot, so there was an ejector button, so you didn't have to touch the bulb."

To give examples of the progress of photographs, a series of pictures takes a black and white print and demonstrates how the color was added by an artist. "They would take a black and white photograph then brown tone it. Then they would use transparent oils to paint the colors over the picture. The artist would use a Q-tip like 'brush' to add the detail. Several pictures are extremely intricate with beautiful colors. The artist often did not see the subjects, so they went by the description written on a piece of paper," explained Lovett.

Lovett did reserve room for some 8mm movie cameras and included an 8mm projector from the 1950s. Another projector was for 16mm film which was a bit larger and from the 30s. These early movie cameras offered the moving pictures with no sound.

Coming back to the doorway from where we began stands another glass cabinet that houses a variety of Polaroid cameras. From the earliest version of instant photography, the photographer could point and shoot then pull the film out. The pulling action would roll the developer over the exposed film. Then you wait before peeling it. The XF70 was the first camera to spit the photograph out after the picture was taken. Of those on display, some go back to the 40s and 50s. Lovett stated that typically, the bigger they are, the older they are. Some were quite technical in that they could automatically determine the lighting.

Polaroid received some competition from the Kodak Kodamatic. Just as the Kodamatic reached the stores, Polaroid won its suit, and Kodak could not sell their cameras, so most were destroyed. Lovett believed that the one on display had never been used but was saved by an employee of a camera store.

Allegan had a number of photo studios including one at the corner of Trowbridge and Chestnut Streets. The building had a skylight so photographs could be taken using natural light. An early Allegan photographer was Harry Porter who had a reputation for fine photography around the turn of the century.

For the 150th year of photography the U.S. Postal Service created a stamp that integrated bits and pieces of photography's history. Lovett shared that the 10,000 watt bulb on the stamp was actually used in the spotlights during the old movies. They drew 96 amps of electricity, which was more than most houses had during those days.

"When Kodak first came out, the camera was expensive for the time," stated Lovett. "It came with a roll of film that took 100 pictures. The pictures were round because the lens was round. Once the pictures were taken, you would send the camera back to Kodak. They would open it, develop the pictures then reload the camera and send it back to you."

That was before the labs began popping up locally. Usually, the labs were at a pharmacy. On display is an envelope from Baker's Drug Store in Allegan, Michigan, Exclusive Eastman Kodak Agency. It has "The Sign of the Best" "Kodak Finishing Slocum Bros. Service. In bold handwriting is indicated "Halloween & Band Group".

Lovett's photography will be a living display of history throughout most of 2025. All are welcome to enjoy the variety of cameras and equipment, ask questions and share stories. The Old Jail Museum on N. Walnut Street in Allegan is open Saturdays from 10am to 4pm.

Abandoned Wells
Got one?

The Allegan Wellhead Protection Program is looking for abandoned, unplugged wells.

Abandoned, unused, unplugged wells threaten groundwater resources and public health. Contaminants from the surface such as fertilizers, pesticides or other run off water, can easily move downward through the unsealed, abandoned well and enter the aquifer. These contaminants may end up in your drinking water well, your neighbors well or the local community drinking water wells.

The City of Allegan would like to identify any abandoned, unplugged wells in and around its wellhead protection zone and explore having them plugged. The zone extends east from the city of Allegan along the north side of M-222 east to 24th St.

If you are the owner of the abandoned, unplugged well and would like assistance in plugging the well. Please contact Allegan Water Utilities at 269-686-1117 or by emailing to Doug Sweeris at dsweeris@cityofallegan.org

Pat's legacy will endure for many years

MIKE'S MUSINGS

MIKE WILCOX
■ PUBLISHER ■

I lost a good friend and co-worker last week. Pat Maurer, has been a part of the Clare County Review since 1983, first as a sales rep, then a writer, then editor and finally as owner. Along the way my father and I purchased the paper from Gary Grim of Farwell and then a few years later sold it to Pat. Ironically, Pat, many years later sold it back to me and continued to this day as a correspondent and columnist.

If your counting that's 42 years serving up news and features about Clare County. Pat was a true journalist, never inserting her opinion in an article and always going the extra mile to present both sides of the story.

But for me, an oftentimes overworked editor, Pat was a Godsend. She would do anything or write anything I asked. When many of my reporters felt overburdened when they were asked to write three stories, Pat wrote ten and sometimes more.

And throughout my many years of working alongside her, she never once complained. She loved writing and loved her community. Before health problems forced her to work from home, she and husband Jack would spend Thursdays helping us design the paper to go to press. She was a bundle of joy, keeping everyone loose on what was typically a stressful day.

But that was Pat. She always had a smile on her face and had kind words for everyone. And despite having health issues the past few years, she continued writing and reporting. It didn't matter if she was on vacation or sick at home, she kept writing, and for that I will be eternally grateful.

Having twelve different newspapers, I have encountered all types of reporters/writers. There are those that are very conscientious and care deeply about their job and community. I would say I'm lucky to have several that fit that description. Then there are others that simply struggle to produce one article in a timely manner.

Pat was at the top of the former. She will be missed. At this point I have no Idea how I will replace her. She has been the face of the Clare County Review for 42 years. Her death was so sudden, I hadn't given a replacement much thought. We will figure it out, but without Pat's contributions, it will be a struggle.

But more importantly than her professional career was the friendship we developed and then sustained through the many years. As co-workers we were together a lot, and then in later years talked on the phone a couple times a week as well as emailing back and forth. She was the definition of a true friend- there to offer advice, tell you when she thought you were wrong, or simply to offer encouragement.

While I aspired to lofty professional goals, Pat chose a simple life- one that put family, Clare and The Review first. Without her I dare say The Review might have went the way of its competitor, The Sentinel or like so many other newspapers. But because of her we are strong, and the strength she gave us will allow us to carry on for many years to come.

Life as Performance Art

G CORWIN STOPPEL

A year ago, somewhere between Halloween and Thanksgiving, there was a slight crisis on the home front. It was during this time that Madame Dewey realized she was missing a stocking. The default go-to response at other dire moments when something is missing was to ask me, "What have you done with… (said object?) In this case it was a missing silk stocking. A white one; not a dark one.

Now, I like a mystery as much as the next fellow, but my real preference is what Miss Christie called a "cozy" murder mystery, not an errant sock. I watch the British ones; sometimes the French if it comes with subtitles; and have written a few. Socks are never included in these sagas.

The idea of "The Mystery of the Purloined Stocking" had a catchy title to it, but I don't think I could do much with it. Besides, I was now commissioned to go on a quest.

My default method, when confronted with serious challenges such as a missing sock is to go for a walk around the block to cogitate and come up with an answer. When I headed for the door I was advised a missing sock did not warrant a hike - just find it.

Still, there was no reason to break a tradition, especially since the weather was still good. Before long I had a simple solution to this mystery of the missing footwear, and asked, "That wasn't the sock with a hole in the toe, the one you threw out, is it?" Sadly, none of her stockings had gone into the circular floor file.

As a completely irrelevant aside: my sock drawer is full of single socks. The good news is that when one sock out of a pair is pitched, since they don't mate for life, there is a reasonable chance it can soon be re- partnered with another orphaned sock. To that end, I make sure all of my socks are black and the same make and model.

I began my investigation, starting with a look-see behind the washing machine and the dryer in case it had somehow flipped out of a machine and gone into hiding among the dust bunnies. Nor had it tumbled out of the laundry basket, slithered under a bed, or anywhere else. For better or worse, we do not have small furry four-legged companions who might choose to use it as a chew toy, unlike a family in Portland Oregon who had a full-scale Great Dane who had eaten 43 socks. He had to have abdominal surgery, just in case you are wondering, and is doing okay now.

We asked the housekeeper to keep an eye out for the errant garment. Now, on occasion she has been known to accidently vacuum up something that should not be vacuumed. I made my inquiries. Not a chance. She had not done the deed, she assured me, and I believed her.

I proposed taking apart the washing machine to see if it somehow got mangled by the agitator. Madame reminded me that this machine does not have an agitator, so I said I could pull out the dryer and see if it managed to pulled through the lint thingy into the stove pipe that exited through the wall on the sunrise side of the house. That proposal agitated Madame who suggested it would be far less expensive to buy a pair of socks than hire a professional to put the washer and dryer back together.

To be honest, greater minds than mine have been at a complete flummox by a sock that has gone AWOL. I shudder at the thought of the countless hours reasonable intelligent men and women have devoted to their search for one sock. If the late English physicist Stephen Hawking were still with us, maybe he would tell us that it a missing sock is anecdotal proof of the existences of very miniature black holes that magically absorb socks past the event horizon.

Indeed, science might give us the answer. I am no intellectual slouch too proud to ask for help. I turned to the Artificial Intelligence website to get a physics-based answer. It took less than a minute, and I had a formula on my screen. I freely share this brilliance with you so you can use it to fob off someone wanting you to find their sock.

(L(P x F) + C(T x S) - (P x A) = missing sock

L stands for laundry size, which is determined by the number of people (P) in the household multiplied by the number of washings (frequency or F) per week.

C stands for complexity or: a. the number of dials and buttons on the control panel of both the washer and dryer, b. the amount of care that must be taken to add the right fluids and start the machine, c. the amount of separating that must be done in advance (i.e. colors, fabrics, temperatures) and so on.

T = the types of washing done each week

P represents one's enthusiasm about doing the laundry, ranging from 1 (I hate this job and when I get rich enough I'm going to hire someone to do this for me) to 5 (WOW! This is the most fun I've had since this time last week. I wish I could do this more often.)

A means the level of attention devoted to do the laundry each and every week or several times a week for years and decades on end.

Obviously, the P and A portions of this formula are so variable that it throws everything off-kilter, just like too many heavy sheets on one side of the tub in the spin cycle.

However, this formula does teach us one thing: The more laundry you do, the more routine it becomes, and it eventually gets to the point where your mind is away with the fears, which is right when the Black Hole slips past you, grabs the sock, and you have no idea where it went.

I am no physicist, but I will give a bit of pastoral counseling here: Some things are a mystery. We have big mysteries and we have small mysteries in life. Missing socks are small mysteries. We must learn to embrace these mysteries and make a leap of faith. Someday, perhaps not in our lifetime, perhaps not in this, but a parallel universe someone will find a single sock somewhere. It might be the one you lost on washing day. You can keep it as a reminder of the time you invested in reading this column.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Liberals can't handle the truth

To the Editor,

If liberals truly believe in the validity of their ideals, then why do they consistently create a subterfuge when presenting them to the American voter. Progressive leftist and radical activist Sal Alinsky wrote in his book Rules for Radicals, "Accuse your opponent of what you are doing to create confusion and to inculcate voters against evidence of your own guilt".

Every time I hear a liberal mention our constitution or the rule of law it makes my skin crawl. Each action instituted by the Trump administration that the left objects to, they childishly claim to be unconstitutional and illegal. Although the left has little use for such pesky concepts as truth or facts, thus far most of the court challenges by their activist judges have resulted in decisions that substantiate President Trump's actions as unquestionably constitutional and legal. Every day the obstructionist actions of the new democrats through their activist judges reflect that they care nothing for the preservation of our Republic and are obsessed with furthering their destructive anti-American ideology. An ideology that the American voters soundly rejected in our nation's 2024 general elections.

As President Trump eliminates unnecessary federal jobs the left falsely claims this is unconstitutional and illegal. Although when Bill Clinton's Reinventing Government team eliminated between 250,000 and 460,000 federal jobs between 1993 and 2000 the left had no objections. Then on January of 2021 Biden signed Executive Order 13990 just a few hours after his swearing in, and thousands of people on the Keystone XL pipeline were suddenly out of a job. But then these weren't federal employees so the left couldn't have cared less.

The purpose of government is not to be a job creator, that is the function of American business and industry. To claim that DOGE is unconstitutional is reflective of how little the left knows about the law and business. Every day in America businesses hire consultants to evaluate the efficiency of their organizations. Having witnessed and experienced this several times throughout my career, those consultants have the authority to request whatever information is necessary to fulfill the objectives of management. For an employee to refuse to immediately respond to their requests is grounds for immediate dismissal. Elon Musk is functioning in that very capacity. Welcome to the private sector.

The continued pathetic listings of Joe Biden accomplishments are insulting. Such claims as Biden's history of selfless public service, his intellectual prowess or his being a devout Catholic. Biden has always been a small, petty, self-serving opportunist only concerned with the accumulation of wealth and power. True of far too many bureaucrats, Biden has always been completely incapable and unskilled to succeed outside of the tax funded public trough. As far as being a devout Catholic, to my knowledge, other than Nancy Pelosi, Joe Biden is one of very few American politicians to have ever been denied communion.

Federally, statewide and locally liberals still appear clueless as to why they lost the November '24 elections as badly as they did. We hear claims how ignorant everyone is who didn't vote for Harris and the new democrats. Or perhaps they weren't black or Hispanic enough or they were bigots, homophobes, misogynists or simply haters. The left's only explanation to the '24 election results is petulant name calling and sniveling. No matter how the left attempts to rewrite American history they forget that we were all present for the attempted destruction of America under the Obama and Biden regimes and those lies are far too easily remembered and recognized. Their promise of joy didn't appear to work out all that well for them last November. Imposing the likes of Pete Buttigieg on us as Michigan's U.S. State Senator illustrates just how clueless they still are. Pete was a colossal failure as the mayor of South Bend, IN and was even more inept as the U.S. Secretary of Transportation. Liberal's joy will never take the place of honor, character and ability.

As an aside, when my wife and I heard of the liberals foolish February 28th economic blackout we felt compelled to respond in a responsible fashion. We therefore decided to reschedule our bi-monthly shopping trip to Kalamazoo from the 27th to the 28th. Although I can't say we noticed a significant difference in the crowd size, by and large the shoppers were far more courteous and friendly. Thank you for that.

Theodore Roosevelt nailed it when he said" If you want to make a conservative angry, lie to them. If you want to make a liberal angry, tell them the truth."

Issues to Consider

To the Editor:

Mike, I wish to take exception to your editorial in the March 6th edition. In your editorial you state that returning 5,000 dollars to every taxpayer would reduce inflation and lower prices. I feel that statement is false like many statements President Trump made in his address to Congress. I agree that the funds should be returned to taxpayers but doing so would drive up demand, drive up prices and increase inflation...On that basis I feel your statement was false.

President Trump made the following questionable claims during his address to congress:

Other countries will be paying trillions of dollars in tariffs--Tariffs are paid by the consumer U.S. citizens. 350 billion dollars of aid to Ukraine. The actual total was considerably less.

Auto plants opening all over the place. Where? That was an untruthful statement.

8 million dollars for making mice transgender. The funds are actually spent to make mice transgenic to be used in lab tests to study disease. What a distortion.

These are only a few of the questionable statements made by President Trump.

I feel your position as editor requires you to standup for truth and to highlight those false claims when they occur. WHEN ARE YOU GOING TO STAND UP FOR TRUTH?

Trump the Illusionist presents with a full and complex bouquet of priorities

Dear Editor:

Why must the American political herd queue up as minions to summarily mete out political retribution toward Zelensky over Putin? Putin-the-strongman idealized by Trump possibly, yet it is not necessary. Putin-the-strongman, until recently presented as manipulative and untrustworthy; A worthy adversary once, and until one recognizes the trance laid over us all, undetected. Imperfect, maybe, yet effective thus far.

Please slap yourselves out of the hideous trance; Let us rejoin and restart the perpetual improvement upon the American Systems and ideals we had begun to recognize and grow along with. Distractions from Trump's primary purpose comes out of our Oval Office easily and in rapid fire assuring his gambit lays low and only indirectly noticed, if at all. Trump remains focused on the lost election and promises made during that 'perfect phone call' made not so long ago. What did he commit to in that call beyond ego and self-aggrandizement. Trump says: "They are all that is important, follow me and you will be great again. What else is there?" Save ourselves, now, before the big flash that may result in our demise.

Wayland Union's Dancing with Star Staff Results

By Gari Voss

Members of the Wayland Union School District staff took the stage with their Wildcat Dance Theater partners and gave the audience in the Wayland Union Fine Arts Center a wonderful show on Wed., February 26, 2025, with Dancing With The Star Staff. Supporters from schools across the district clapped, screamed and whistled for their favorite performers.

After the panel of judges gave their critiques and the votes were cast by stuffing ballot boxes with dollars of all denominations, the winners were announced. In truth, there were no losers, but as with every competition, the top vote getters need to be announced.

Wildcat Dance Theatre Artistic Director Leigh Ann Hill announced, "DWTSS was such a huge success. Everyone pulled out show-stopping performances! With ticket sales and audience votes, we raised $3,900 and cleared $3,500."

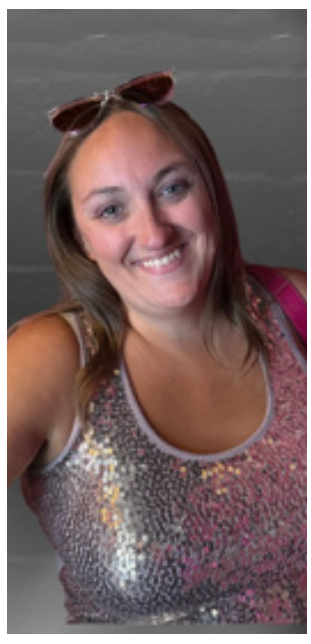
This was a fundraiser, and with the proceeds, the dancers will be able to attend: the Oakland Dance Festival in Farmington, MI, The Nutcracker Matinee of the Grand Rapids Ballet Company at DeVos Performance Hall, and the Michigan Youth Dance Festival at the University of Michigan: Dance Department.

Director Hill and the Wildcat Dance Theatre Team would like to thank all of the Star Staff competitors: Rochelle Diaz, the high school Spanish teacher; Paul Goodwin, the high school football coach and substitute teacher; Michael Doupe, high school English teacher; Kacie Bultje from Pine Street Elementary School's Media Center; and School Resource Officer Jon Schafer

In addition, kudos go to the panel of esteem judges Elizabeth Stein, the Varsity Dance Team coach; Assistant Superintendent Theresa Fulk; Elizabeth Santana, Pine Street 4th grade teacher; and Cierra Onken, Dorr Elementary special education teacher.

At Near right is Jamie Berens, clerical aide, who ensured that Dorr Elementary was on the stage. With the assistance of 9th grader Kaylee Nylaan and 10th grader Taryn Shook, Ms. Berens was able to strut her stuff. With her background at ULTA, she definitely had the right look.

At far right, Runner Up: Karyll Russell, the high school assistant principal, came with a strong background that included taking ballet and contemporary dance. Students Kadence DuShane, 10th grade, and Makayla Featherly, 9th grade, knew that roping in the new administrator would bring enthusiasm to the stage.



Obituaries

Patricia A. Renkema, 80

Patricia A. Renkema

Patricia A. Renkema, age 80, of Fennville, MI went to be with the Lord on Wednesday, February 26, 2025, surrounded by her family members and friends with outpouring love and prayers.

Patti was born on July 1, 1944, to Donald and Dorothy Koehler of Oak Park, IL. She was a graduate of Oak Park River Forest High School and completed one year at the University of Wisconsin. She went on to work in various careers, including in dental and insurance offices, Fennville Public Schools, and an assisted living center. Patti loved serving others in Christ and did so as a Bible study leader, Sunday school teacher, women's jail ministry, and through countless other ways that impacted each person she met. Patti truly "held out her candle," shining her light for the Lord and guiding others to the feet of Jesus.

Patti married the love of her life, William (Bill) when she was 19 years old. Their marriage was filled with abounding joy, faithfulness, devotion, and compassion. Their love was strong, unwavering, and true, striving always to put the Lord in the center of their relationship to love passionately and abide by. The afterglow of their love for one another will forever be heartwarming, inspirational, and treasured.

Patti was a passionate, cheerful, and godly woman whose primary mission in life was to lead others to the foot of the cross to know Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior. A Bible verse that so eloquently paints her daily focus is 3 John 1:4, which reads, "I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth." Her sweet, humble and affable spirit radiated God's love and her firm devotion to His Word. She loved spending her free time studying the Bible and developing her knowledge of God's promises, which could happily occupy her for hours on end.

She also loved the sport of tennis, playing games, documenting memories with photographs, and most of all, being surrounded by family, who she faithfully discipled to. Her tender, gracious, and gentle nature exuded through her love for the birds, cats and dogs, cloudy skies, the smell of rain, and the smallest intricacies of God's design. Nothing was too small or insignificant to her, including each person or creature she met. Her ability to listen, trust, and rely on prayer was matchless, and she carried it with her to the day the Lord welcomed her home. With humbleness and gratitude, we take heart and smile knowing our radiant Patti has been made new in Heaven, with Jesus forever.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Donald and Dorothy Koehler; sister, Carol Koehler, mother-in-law, Alice VanPlew; and daughter, Sheri Davis.

Our family would like to extend our gratitude to Patti's doctors, nurses and pharmacists for their excellent and compassionate care.

A Celebration of Life service is planned for 11:00 am on Saturday, April 19th at Corner Bible Church, 4001 124th Ave., Allegan, MI 49010.

Memorial contributions may be made in Patti's honor to:

Kindergarten, pre-school roundups - time to get ready

By Gari Voss

The 2024-25 school year rollercoaster is gaining speed, which means it is time to begin preparing for the 2025-26 school year. Therefore, parents and caregivers need to explore the options for their children who are 3-6 years old. This can be done during Kindergarten, Young 5s, and Preschool Round-Up on Tuesday, March 18, 2025, at the Allegan High School Conference Center, 1560 M-40, Allegan.

Thanks to the coordination of state and federally funded programs along with the Allegan Public's Young 5s Program at the North Ward Early Childhood Center (ECC) and Allegan Public kindergarten, parents and caregivers can do one-stop shopping for the best program to meet the needs of their child(ren). To better understand the expanse of programs offered at North Ward ECC, check https://alleganps.org/ecc/.

For the best experience at Round-Up, Casey Kroll, Principal of the North Ward Early Childhood Center shared:

ROUNDUP

Tidbits to prepare for the experience

"As you and your child prepare for the Kindergarten Round-Up experience, we want to ensure a smooth and efficient process for all families. Here are a few important steps to help make the transition as seamless as possible:

1. Complete the Pre-Registration Online– Before attending Kindergarten Round-Up, we kindly ask that all parents complete the pre-registration process using https://alleganps.org/enroll/. This step is essential, as it allows you to set up your PowerSchool account, which will be used for ongoing communication and student records. [No computer? Computer time is available at the Allegan District Library.]

2. Finalize Registration at Round-Up – During the event, you will complete the registration paperwork to finalize your child's enrollment. This is an important step to ensure your child is fully registered for the upcoming school year.

3. Follow the Assigned Time Slots – To help with traffic flow and ensure that every family has a smooth experience, we ask that you arrive during the designated time slot based on your last name. This will allow staff to assist families more efficiently and provide the best support possible.
A-G 4-5:00pm; H-O 5-6:00pm; P-Z 6-7:00pm

4. Alternative Arrangements – If you are unable to attend Kindergarten Round-Up, please be sure to complete the registration paperwork as soon as possible. For any questions or additional assistance, feel free to contact Holly Dowd, (269) 673-5431 x3032, who will be happy to help."

5. Be sure to bring: a photo ID for the adult registering a child, Original Birth Certificate of the child, Proof of Residency with a lease/ rental agreement or utility bill, Immunization Records, and any available Hearing, Vision and/or Dental Results.

6. During the time slot, parents and children can meet the teachers and principals, have vision and hearing screenings, take a bus ride, and play on the inflatables.

Know the Programs

HELP ME GROW (HMG) oversees several integral programs for families that are funded by the State of Michigan with some federal funds… Help Me Grow Allegan begins by supporting pregnant mothers and families with young children (birth to 5) by connecting them with the local resources, programs and services available to them. During Allegan's Kindergarten/Young Fives/Preschool Round-Up, assistance will be given to determining the best program for 3-4 year olds eligible for Head Start or the Great Start Readiness Program (GSRP).

Head Start

Head Start encourages parents of 3 and 4 year olds to come to the High School on March 18th and receive assistance in completing the application with Head Start staff. The applications will be reviewed during the spring and summer. Acceptance letters will be emailed or mailed to families during the summer. Head Start is funded through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, Office of Head Start.

Great Start Readiness Program (GSRP)

The Great Start Readiness Program, funded by the State of Michigan, has grown from its beginnings in the 1990s. Head Start classrooms were filled while a large number of 4 year olds were unable to get into preschool programs. Early childhood advocates wanted to provide programs for those who for financial reasons or program unavailability in their area were unable to receive preschool experiences. Most 4 year olds of the Allegan area families qualify for this FREE preschool program. Children must be 4 years old by September 1, 2025, but there may be waivers for children who do not turn 4 until December 1, but only if there are spaces available. GSRP Students attend class Mondays-Thursdays during school hours.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROGRAMS

The Allegan Public School District offers Young Fives and Kindergarten classrooms.

Young Fives

The Young Fives program enrolls children who turn 5 years old between September 1st and December 1st. The program gives children extra time to develop social-emotional, fine motor, and academic experiences. This is a full-day program on Mondays through Fridays.

Kindergarten

Kindergarten classes are housed at each elementary school. By attending Kindergarten Roundup, parents and caregivers can be certain which school will be attended. In addition, there will be time to learn more about the kindergarten curriculum and ask about activities in which children can participate before school begins at the end of August 2025.

DAYCARE AND AFTER SCHOOL CARE

These programs are tuition-based and can assist with preschool and childcare for children through age 12. Check out http://www.littletigersallegan.com/.

Little Tigers Learning Center that opened in 2020 is available at the North Ward Center and is open from 6am-6pm each day. This is a tuition-based program that offers an age-appropriate curriculum in each classroom for children up to 12 years old. The preschool classrooms provide activities that will prepare children for kindergarten. Day care programs are available throughout the summer with special summer day camps.

Tiny Tigers Learning Center was developed for children 0-3 years old. The Tiny Tigers facility opened on Trowbridge St. in Allegan in 2024. It is open from 7am-5pm, Mondays through Friday.

Importance of Collaboration

"The collaboration within APS to unify birth-six programs has greatly enhanced our ability to meet the needs of children and families," stated Principal Kroll.

"By housing Young 5's, GSRP, Head Start, and Little Tigers Daycare at the North Ward Early Childhood Center, we provide a seamless, supportive environment that fosters early learning and development. This centralized approach ensures families have access to essential resources in one location, easing transitions for children as they progress through early education. Additionally, having these stakeholders available in a consolidated format during kindergarten round-up is crucial, as it allows families to connect with support systems and prepare their children for a smooth transition to kindergarten. Encouraging preschool enrollment from an early age ensures that Allegan remains a leader in providing progressive, high-quality early childhood education for all families."

Kroll goes on to explain the smoother transition to kindergarten, "Beyond early childhood education, kindergarten is a critical milestone for all students, serving as the foundation for academic, social, and emotional development. It provides children with essential skills such as literacy, numeracy, problem-solving, and collaboration, setting them up for long-term success in school and beyond. Attending kindergarten helps children develop confidence, independence, and a love for learning, making it a vital step in their educational journey. By ensuring all families understand the value of kindergarten and young 5's and have access to quality programs, APS continues to prioritize strong early learning experiences that benefit students and the community as a whole."

In summary, Kroll thanks the parents and caregivers of the Allegan Public School District, "We appreciate your partnership in making this an exciting and positive experience for your child. We look forward to welcoming our newest kindergarten students and their families to APS!"

Diving results: Seven schools send divers to finals

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

HAMILTON--Hamilton hosted a Division 3 diving regional on Thursday, March 6.

And it was a good evening for the seven Allegan County participants.

All seven--two each from Hamilton, Otsego and Plainwell along with one from Wayland--advanced to the State Finals by virtue of finishing in the top 15.

The State Finals are slated to begin on Friday, March 14, at Eastern Michigan University. A total of 36 divers will compete, with the top 20 after five dives advancing to semifinals, which consists of the next three dives. The top 16 divers after those eight dives advance to the finals on Saturday, March 15.

The battle for the top local finisher came down to Hamilton's Jayden Bierschbach and Otsego's Caleb Wesseldyk.

Bierschbach ended up placing fourth with a career-high 373.05 points, with Wesseldyk less than four points behind at 369.25 for fifth.

Bierschback's teammate Brodie Brown placed eighth with 347.5 points.

"Both boys had a good night," Hamilton dive coach Aaron Paskvan said. "Brodie earned his second trip to state and Jayden had a lifetime best performance by about 24pts. They have both worked hard and are excited to go together to the state championships."

Wesseldyk qualified for the State Finals for the third straight year. He'll be joined by teammate Collin Crites, who qualified for the first time.

Sitting in 16th place through 10 of the 11 dives, Crites jumped into 15th place on his final dive and finished with 284.75 points.

"It was an exciting night, especially for Collin," Otsego coach Darryl Belton said. "We knew Caleb was going to be okay. The mission for him was to not get hurt, but I had no doubt he would make the top 15.

"Collin's goal all year was to make the state meet. He had a good year, but it is tough when your entire season goal comes down to one meet. It was even tougher when his entire season came down to his last dive. But the boy came through. For him, it was fantastic."

Wessledyk placed 10th at the State Finals two years ago adn 12th last year.

"Caleb's goal this year was to make the All-State team," Belton said. "Now is his chance. He is definitely one of the best divers in the state of Michigan. Now it's time to prove it.

"I am very excited for both of the boys. They have earned this. Now we have to take advantage of the opportunity."

For Plainwell, Aidan Ranger placed ninth with 343.3 points, while teammate Phil Mathis was 11th with 314.75 points.

"Both of our divers did exactly as expected at regionals," Plainwell dive coach Lynne Seibert said. "This is Phil's first time qualifying for the state meet. For Phil, this is monumental. As a freshman, he was barely able to land on his head.

"Aidan dived consistent, which helped to solidify his spot at the State meet. I am so proud to have coached these young men. Not only are they terrific athletes, but they are coachable, fun and, most importantly, exceptional young men in and out of the pool."

Wayland's Carson Lown is the final Allegan County qualifier. He placed 11th with 320.8 points.

Otsego defeated by Paw Paw in District 2 action

By Jason Wesseldyk

SOUTH HAVEN–A tough way to end a good season.

That's the way Otsego girls basketball coach Tony Koshar described his team's 47-41 loss to Paw Paw in the title game of a Division 2 district hosted by South Haven on Friday, March 7.

The Bulldogs led at the end of each of the first three quarters: 11-10 after one quarter, 22-18 at halftime and 31-27 at the end of the third period.

In the fourth quarter, though, the Red Hawks used a 20-10 scoring edge to earn the comeback victory over Otsego.

"It was a night that we led for most of the game, although it was pretty close throughout," Koshar said. "I don't say this often, but I don't think on this night that the better team won."

Paw Paw opened the final frame on a 12-4 run to take a 39-35 lead before Otsego regrouped to knot the score at 41-41 with about two minutes left to play.

But Paw Paw scored the game's final six points as the Bulldogs simply couldn't get any shots to fall.

"At the end of the day, we just didn't shoot the ball very well," Koshar said. "We got all of the shots we wanted, but it was one of those nights where they rimmed out a lot."

The shooting woes extended to the free throw line, as the Bulldogs went 9-of-18 from the line.

Brooke Smalldon scored a game-best 14 points in the loss to go with seven rebounds and six steals. Tessa Prough, one of Otsego's two seniors along with Reagan Engbers, added 10 points, four rebounds and three steals.

Madden Fitzpatrick chipped in with seven points and a team-best nine rebounds.

"We fought foul trouble for the majority of the night, but the girls kept playing hard," Koshar said.

Otsego, which finished the season at 13-10, will return nine of the 11 players who suited up for the district title game.

"It was a great year of growth for us while still having some success for our two seniors, Tessa Prough and Reagen Engbers," Koshar said. "We will remember both of them for their leadership and inspired play all year. We'll miss them.

"We're also excited about the girls we have coming back. The future looks really bright."

Saugatuck girls basketball defeats Gobles in Districts

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

BLOOMINGDALE–During the regular season, the Saugatuck girls basketball team beat Gobles both times the teams met.

The average margin of victory? A cool 28.5 points.

Still …

"It's March Madness and it's Gobles," Saugatuck coach Kevin Tringali said. "If you look back at the history, Gobles has absolutely owned us for a decade up until recently. So they still give me nightmares because they're a very well-coached, strong traditional program.

"I've been around way too long to take anyone for granted."

Sharpshooting Saugatuck sophomore guard Mylah Simpson did her part to make sure the Trailblazers weren't "absolutely owned" by Gobles in this game.

On the strength of seven 3-pointers, Simpson scored a career-high 36 points to nearly match the offensive output of the entire Gobles roster and lead Saugatuck to the 66-42 win.

Simpson also had six rebounds and six blocks.

"Mylah has earned it," Tringali said of Simpson's performance from long range. "She'll never be outworked. She's shooting from college, if not NBA-length, threes. But she works on that, so that's why she has the green light.

"I'm not gonna tell a kid like that 'no' when I see the work that she puts into it. That obviously was a big part of why things turned out the way they did. She's one of the best, most unselfish kids I've been around in 27 years of coaching."

While Saugatuck ended up winning the game convincingly, the start was a bit nerve-racking for Tringali.

Gobles scored the game's first six points before Penny Grob hit a jumper to get Saugatuck on the scoreboard. Then it was Simpson's time to shine, as she scored the next seven points.

That 9-0 scoring run put the Trailblazers up 9-6.

With the game deadlocked at 21-21, Simpson took over yet again, knocking down four 3-pointers in the final four minutes of the second quarter to help stake Saugatuck to the 35-26 halftime lead.

Simpson added eight points in the third quarter, with junior Tali Laskowski scoring nine of her 18 points during the frame as Saugatuck extended its lead to 55-39.

"(Gobles) did that to us at our place (during the regular season),, so I was thinking that if we don't turn things around, we could be in for a long night," Tringali said of Gobles' fast start. "But Tali and Mylah really carried us on their backs. They made the plays when we needed to and just gradually pulled away.

Grob added six points, five rebounds and four assists, while Maggie Loomis pulled down 12 rebounds for the Trailblazers.

LAWRENCE—A balanced scoring attack had been one of the hallmarks of the Martin girls basketball team throughout the season.

The Clippers' Division 4 district semifinal against Howardsville Christian on Wednesday, March 5, was no exception.

Three Martin players scored nine points and two others scored seven points to propel the Clippers to the 49-26 win.

"As usual, our offensive attack was incredibly balanced," Martin coach Ben Schipper said.

Kayden Jager, Marybeth Ritchie and Torryn Harris led the way with nine points each. Ritchie also had seven rebounds and four assists, while Harris had five rebounds and three steals.

Avery Jager and Anna Jager chipped seven points apiece. Avery Jager added a team-best 10 rebounds and Anna Jager had five boards. Each had two blocks.

Martin started the game strong, going up 11-5 after the opening quarter.

Kayden Jager scored five points—including a 3-pointer—during that span. Ritchie added four points.

It was Anna Jager's turn to take the lead in the second stanza, as she scored five points to help push Martin's advantage to 23-9 at the intermission.

Defensively, Martin limited Howardsville to four free throws in the second quarter.

The third quarter didn't go quite as well, with Howardsville holding a 10-9 scoring edge.

"We came out sluggish in the third with multiple unforced turnovers and allowing Howardsville some open midrange looks, which they shoot very well," Schipper said. "We stressed during a timeout the need to lock in and keep things simple on the offensive end.We wanted to cycle through the offense and make the defense work more."

That message got through loud and clear, as the Clippers closed the game on a 17-7 run in the final frame to pull away.

"We are very proud of the effort we brought tonight for three of the quarters," Schipper said.

Martin girls lose in district action

LAWRENCE–The Division 4 girls basketball district final against Martin and host Lawrence on Friday, March 14, came down to the free throw line.

Lawrence went 16-of 25 at the line, while the Clippers finished 4-of-11.

That allowed the Tigers to secure the 40-36 win, ending Martin's season in the process.

"This loss was heartbreaking," Martin coach Ben Schipper said. "With a win, we would get to go home and host regionals and we were very excited about that possibility.

"Our girls played their hearts out and we couldn't be more proud of their effort."

Schipper was particularly proud of his team's defensive effort, which limited Lawrence to nine made field goals in the game.

"We pride ourselves on our gritty man-to-man defense," he said. "We decided to ratchet it up even more for this game and go full deny on Lawrence's top player. Torryn Harris gave a legendary defensive effort holding her to 10 points with only two made field goals. She was an absolute warrior all night."

That defensive effort allowed the Clippers to lead 22-19 at halftime. The game was knotted at 27-27 through three quarters.

But in the final frame, Lawrence took advantage of its large edge at the line.

The Tigers were 7-of-12 on free throws in the fourth quarter compared to 2-of-4 for Martin, as Lawrence used a 13-7 scoring edge to hold off the Clippers.

"Without going into all the details, we feel we executed our game plan extremely well and that's what makes this loss so tough," Schipper said. "We just couldn't get shots to fall when we needed them down the stretch."

Anna Jager paced Martin with 11 points, followed by Avery Jager with eight points. Harris and Marybeth Ritchie chipped in with six and five points, respectively.

The loss ended the prep hoops careers of seniors Avery Jager and Macy Thorne, who missed the end of the season with an injury.

"We are so thankful for our two seniors Avery Jager and Macy Thorne," Schipper said. "They played on varsity for four and three years, respectively. We will miss them dearly and applaud their commitment to the program."

Saugatuck girls beat Fennville in district semifinal

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

BLOOMINGDALE—Batman and Robin. Mario and Luigi. Snoopy and Charlie Brown.

Those are some iconic duos.

The Saugatuck girls basketball team has a pretty terrific tandem of its own in junior guard Tali Laskowski and sophomore guard Mylah Simpson.

The pair racked up a combined 44 points and 18 steals to lead the Trailblazers to the 71-32 win over Fennville in a Division 3 district semifinal on Wednesday, March 5.

"It's no secret that Tali and Mylah are phenomenal players," Saugatuck coach Kevin Tringali said. "They play so well together and they kind of get us going on both ends of the floor."

Indeed they do.

Simpson finished with a game-best 25 points to go with seven steals and six rebounds. Laskowski went for 19 points—10 of those coming in the final quarter—11 steals and seven assists.

The strong guard play from Simpson and Laskowski helped offset the absence of senior post player Kennedy Gustafson. She was sitting out for a second straight game after suffering a broken nose during a regular-season game against Fennville on Feb. 25.

"We've had multiple kids in double digits on any given night and it's one of the things we've been proud of all season," Tringali said. "We're hoping that Kennedy can come back (soon) because she's a big piece of our success. She's been the face of our program these past four years."

The Trailblazers (22-1) wasted no time taking control of the game, building a 15-7 lead after one quarter.

The lead stood at 33-11 at halftime, thanks largely to 12 second-quarter points from Simpson.

Entering the third quarter, Saugatuck led 52-23.

Junior guard Penny Grob added nine points to go with four steals in the winning cause.

Much of the offensive success enjoyed to the Trailblazers was due to a relentless defensive effort, namely a three-quarter-court press.

"We knew that our best offense was going to be our defense," Tringali said. "We actually struggled a little bit against their 2-3 zone, but if we can keep pressure on people and score off of our pressure, we'll be okay."

Senior Lila Rosema led the charge for Fennville, scoring a team-best 12 points to go with seven rebounds. Sophomore Ceeley Howard added seven points.

Otsego girls defeat South Haven in semifinals

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

SOUTH HAVEN– Brooke Smalldon and Tessa Prough.

That proved to be a winning combination for the Otsego girls basketball team in its Division 2 district semifinal against host South Haven on Wednesday, March 5.

With 17 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter and the score tied at 48-48, Smalldon knocked down a pair of clutch free throws. On the ensuing South Haven possession, Prough blocked a shot by South Haven sharpshooter Ly'nique Cunningham and secured the rebound to seal the 50-48 victory for the Bulldogs.

Prough, a senior, finished with 17 points, seven rebounds, four blocks and four steals.

"She really came out aggressive and played like she didn't want it to be her last game," Otsego coach Tony Koshar said of Prough.

Smalldon was close behind in scoring, checking in with 15 points.

Those 32 combined points from Prough and Smalldon helped offset a 27-point effort from Cunningham, who reached the 1,000-point milestone as a sophomore this season.

"This time of the year the adage is survive and advance and tonight was a perfect example of that," Koshar said.

The game couldn't have started much better for the Bulldogs, who built a 28-14 halftime lead.

But Cunningham and the Rams didn't go quietly, chipping away at Otsego's advantage until finally knotting the score at 48-48.

"It was a tale of two halves," Koshar said. "We jumped out to that big lead, but South Haven did a nice job of spreading us out in the second half. That created space for (Cunningham) and allowed them to get back in the game."

Otsego fouled the Rams with 24 seconds left to play, but South Haven missed both free throws. Seven seconds later, Smalldon was fouled and knocked down her freebies, setting the stage for Prough's block at the other end.

Madden Fitzpatrick added 10 points and four rebounds for Otsego. Audrey Lingbeek played all 32 minutes.

"Audrey did a great job getting us into our offense all night," Koshar said.

Plainwell boys defeated by Holland Christian

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

BATTLE CREEK–In its Division 2 regional semifinal against Holland Christian on Tuesday, March 4, the Plainwell boys basketball team led 22-18 at halftime and maintained a 28-22 edge in the closing minutes of the third quarter.

Never, though, did Plainwell coach Larry Ash feel overly comfortable.

"Sometimes you have a game where you may have the lead but you are really not in control," Ash said. "That's how this game was. Because every time we had a chance to put the lead into double figures, we turned it over or missed an easy shot."

Led by Titus Spencer, Holland Christian took advantage of Plainwell's inability to put the game away by holding a 22-8 scoring edge in the final frame to hand the Trojans a 49-36 loss.

Plainwell, which claimed its first district title in 16 years, finished the season at 17-7.

"I know everyone says it was a good season and it was," Ash said. "But when you set goals and have high expectations and you work so hard, it's not that easy. When you get a team and everybody buys in and believes and you have that confident feeling walking into every game, it's a dream.

"I know in high school when you get that type of team you have to make the best of it and just feel bad for our guys because we had that kind of team. I am so proud and so thankful to each one on this team for being here for Plainwell basketball and letting me coach them."

Plainwell junior John Amaezechi and his teammates fell to Holland Chrisitan in a Division 2 regional semifinal. (Photo by Jason Wesseldyk)

Chib Amaezechi and Chad Winenger led Plainwell with 10 points each. Drew Nelson and Drew Rayman were next with seven points each, while John Amaezechi rounded out the Trojans' scoring with two points.

Thanks in large part to a pair of 3-pointers from Rayman, the Trojans took a 10-7 lead after one quarter. Six second-quarter points from Winenger helped push that advantage to 22-18 at halftime.

But with Plainwell's lead standing at 28-22 late in the third stanza, Spencer took over for Holland Christian.

Spencer knocked down a 3-pointer to narrow the gap to 28-27 to close out the third period before tacking on five straight points to open the fourth quarter to give the Maroons a 32-28 lead.

Spencer ended up scoring 12 of his game-high 29 points in the final frame to lead his team to the victory.

"(The Maroons) have a really good point guard and he hit a couple of threes and it was downhill from then on," Ash said. " We work on jumping screens to send him back and it was working in the first three quarters. But if you are late against a guard like him, he can go around you or split you. He is pretty good."

John Amaezechi added seven rebounds and four steals in the loss, while Chib Amaezechi had five rebounds and three assists. Winenger added four rebounds.

Faces in the Crowd

G C Stoppel

St Patrick's Day falls on March 17th, a Tuesday this year. For the Irish and non-Irish alike, it is a time to party. Do you have any plans?

-Middle aged couple at a gas station on M-89: Woman: "We used to go to a corned beef and cabbage dinner somewhere, so we'll probably do that." Man: "Yup. Drink beer and eat corned beef and cabbage."

-Older couple near the Blue Goose in Fennville: Man: "I'm hoping the Lawrence Welk show will be his annual Salute to the Irish, and they'll play some old favorites." Woman: "I like Joe Fleeny, that Irish tenor. I'll bet you never heard of him. Or Dennis Day. He was good, too."

-Younger man, same location: "Not much of anything. I'm Polish, sooooo…."

-Woman near the Fennville grocery store: "Going in right now to get some sugar cookies with green icing for the grandkids. It'll be dessert after the Irish stew I always make."

-Younger man near the Allegan Post Office: "Maybe a pub crawl that weekend with some friends. Just hanging out with them."

-Couple near the Regent: Man: "We're taking the two grandchildren to Chicago for the weekend." Woman: "I want them to see how they dye the river green and watch the parades. Me and him grew up on the south side, so we go back once in a while for it. The grandkids are old enough to enjoy it."

-Young woman near Allegan City Hall: "Not much. It doesn't matter, really, just so long as Mother doesn't cook the meat and cabbage. It stinks up the house and I have to wash my hair again. And every year my dad wants to watch that John Wayne movie, you know, the one about a boxer." [The film is The Quiet Man.]

-Older woman in front of Minnie's: "The Feast Day of the Blessed St. Patrick of Ireland, as it is properly called, is on March 17th. It is in Lent, which means without dispensation from our bishop or the Pope, there is to be no partying that day. I doubt there will be any dispensation this year." She looked around to be sure no one was listening, "But, I'll have my celebration on Sunday, and that will be just as good."

Peek at the Past

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

March 13, 1950

Crime wave nipped in bud with arrest of four in Otsego: A junior crime wave was nipped in the bud in Otsego last week when four 14-year-olds were arrested and turned over to the probate court.

Judge Harold Weston released the quartette to their parents pending trial.

Their activities last Monday night included thefts at the Chevrolet garage, Spencer's grocery store and the looting of cars parked near the Masonic temple and the Otsego Falls Paper Mill.

All property was recovered excepting part of it which the boys found too heavy to carry and had dropped in the river.

Allegan schools to mark 'Music-in-Schools Day': Music in our Schools Day, sponsored by the 62,000-member Music Educators National Conference, will be celebrated for the first time today (Thursday), according to Allegan High School senior band director Charles Ball.

Several prominent state professional music organizations will participate in the event, Ball said.

Music in our Schools Day aims to focus public attention on the goals and processes of present-day music education, which reaches more than 2,000 young people in Allegan schools and some 46,000,000 across the country.

The Allegan School Board, in action at their last meeting, joined Gov. William Milliken and President Gerald Ford in proclaiming Music in our Schools Day March 13, and a variety of events have been scheduled locally to emphasize the music program k-12.

The Allegan senior and junior high schools have invited all interested community residents to visit the music classrooms today, and the elementary schools will observe the event with concerts provided by the high school vocal department on Monday and Tuesday.

Family plans national reunion: The opening of this eastern Allegan County community in the 1830s owes much to a family of prominent Scottish highlands emigrants.

Monteith family members made some of the earliest purchases of land south of the present location of Martin. Their descendants contributed significantly to the township's history. Some live around Martin and in nearby communities to this day.

Michael Monteith of Holland, who began a Monteith USA newsletter in 1999, set himself the task some six or seven years ago of organizing a national family reunion. Because of the pioneering status of Monteiths in Michigan, Martin seemed the logical place for the gathering.

Arrangements have been settled, Monteith descendants from across the nation will assemble at Martin High School, both in the gym and outdoors, Saturday, July 22. Michael expects to host family members from 11 states.

"We're going to have some bagpipes here," he said. "It's just a big celebration of all of the Monteiths who cam from the old country to America."

In bygone days, the Monteith clan had connections to Stewart and Graham clans, among others, in the Scottish highlands.

William Monteith, Sr., with wife Isabella, traveled from Scotland to New York State in 1775. They immediately began a large family.

Reserve deputy saves man's life: When Otsego resident Floyd Eshbaugh stopped breathing at Otsego Family Fitness on Feb. 3, he had help.

Owner Michelle Kamp shouted for help from off-duty Allegan County Reserve Deputy Mike Keeler, who ran over from his elliptical, called 911 and began chest compressions after Eshbaugh, 58, stopped breathing and was in cardiac arrest.

Kamp retrieved the automated external defibrillator, Keeler set it up and it began to administer shocks to restart Eshbaught's heart.

Plainwell EMS and other first responders quickly arrived to take over and took Eshbaugh to the hospital. He spent the next couple of days in a coma.

He now has a pacemaker and came home Feb. 14.

Eshbaugh's daughter Nicolette Sartori said, "If nothing else, I want to tell people about the importance of knowing CPR. If not for (Keeler) being there and if Michelle hadn't have had a working AED—the fast response of everyone involved, those are the reason my dad's alive.

"Mike Keeler is an angel send down from heaven. I'm so grateful for him and the other first responders. Thank you isn't enough."

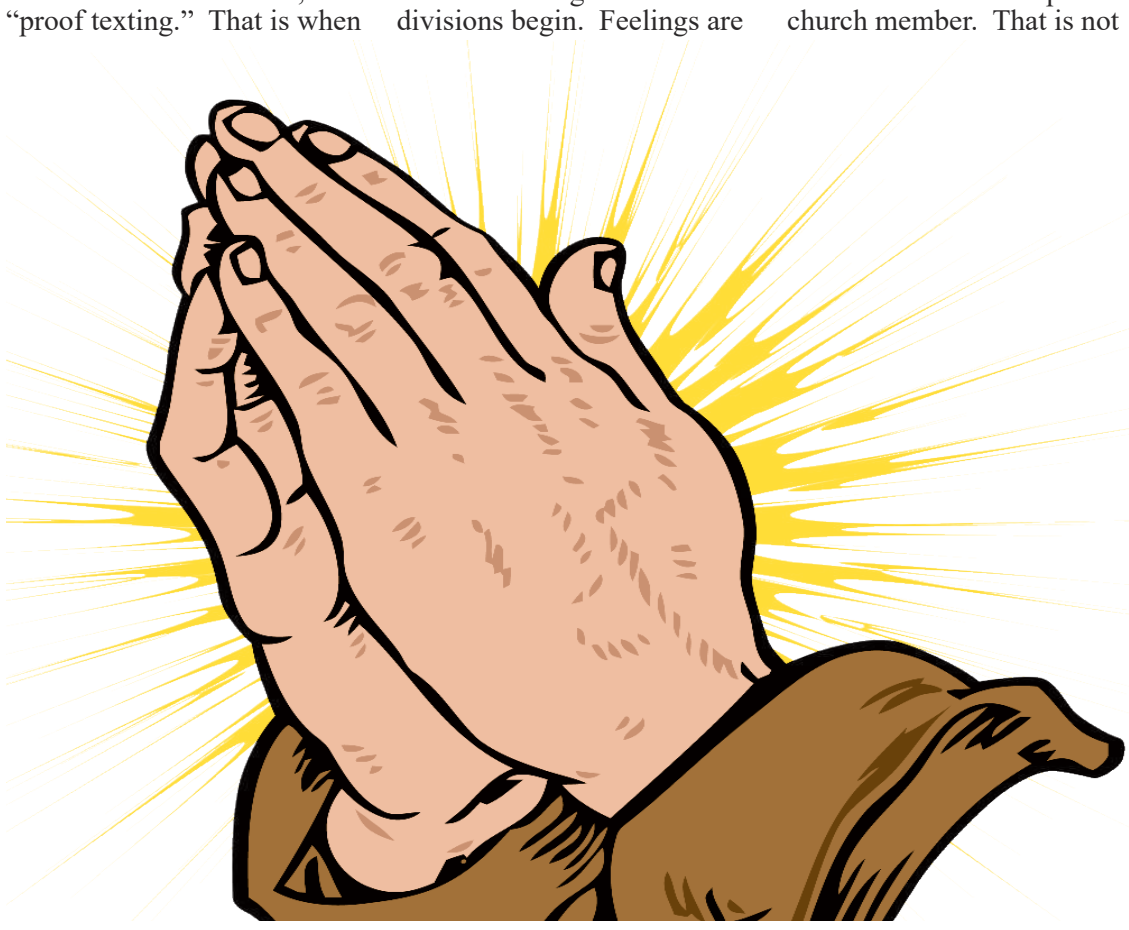
RELIGION SECTION

I truly despise airports, and I know I am not alone. From start to finish it is one act of tension after another. It is trying to unload passengers or find a parking space; the long line at the front desk; another line at security, and still another at the boarding gate. Once on the plane there is the struggle to stow the carry-on luggage, and we soon feel like we are a sardine in a tin can without oil to lubricate things.

Airports can bring out the worst in us for one very simple reason: In nearly all situations we are adamantly convinced that we are right and have the right to defend our rights. The only way to do that, many believe, is to be tough and intimidating. Passengers give fellow passengers the "what for," and then turn on airline employees.

We don't like living that way, it gets even more miserable when we see it happening in a church. There is nothing new about it. In the 14th chapter of St Paul's letter to the Romans, he writes about this situation. The interesting part of this conflict is that it is not the result of hostility, but convictions. It is as if various individuals or factions are saying, "I have my beliefs and I am right, so there!"

To add a little more leverage, sometimes members do a bit of what is called, "proof texting." That is when they have an idea or, perhaps adhere to a specific doctrine, and then go on a quest to find a verse or two to justify their beliefs. Another member just as vehemently disagrees, and thus the arguments and divisions begin. Feelings are hurt, and more often that not, someone leaves the parish family. It is always a sad time all around.



All of us want to be right, and there is part of us that wants to be the alpha church member. That is not what Jesus taught. Being a servant of others, not being the self-appointed top person is the way God's kingdom works. It is so different from the standards of much of the rest of the world, it is sometimes hard to remember that teaching.

To make it happen in our churches takes love. Often it is sometimes very hard work to love someone who is different from ourselves or holds different beliefs. But Christians cannot have a strong influence in their own homes, their church, and even less their community or the rest of the world when we are always striving to take control.

We live in a divided world, and the last thing it needs is a church that is divided over often-superficial things that are artificially made important because of a power and control struggle.

Love one another, was the instruction from Jesus. Our task is to figure out how to best make that a reality.
